Learning Objectives

Listed below are the objectives that each attendee should be able to achieve at the end of this specific session.

Classification of Mature ‘Small Cell’ B-Cell Lymphomas

Understanding the principles of classification of mature ‘small cell’ B-cell lymphomas and the necessary diagnostic criteria for the more common lymphomas.

Gaining knowledge of current biomarkers in the practice of precision oncology, and of integration of genetic features with morphological and immunophenotypic features.

Classification of Mature Aggressive B-Cell Lymphomas and Hodgkin Lymphoma

Understanding the principles of classification of mature aggressive B-cell lymphomas and Hodgkin lymphomas, and the necessary diagnostic criteria for the more common lymphomas.

Gaining knowledge of current biomarkers in the practice of precision oncology, and of integration of genetic features with morphological and immunophenotypic features.

Pitfalls and Difficulties in the Diagnosis of Lymphomas

Navigating morphologies raise difficulties in the distinction between a benign and a malignant process with a predominance of B-cells in a lymph node.

Approach to diagnosis in small biopsies.

Transfusion Medicine – Blood Bank Emergencies for Non-Blood Bankers

Compare “new” and traditional blood components.

Evaluate the appropriate blood product for transfusion.

Review strategies for emergency preparedness and blood shortages.

Summarize important FDA timelines and rules.

CME Credit

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of the South Carolina Medical Association and the South Carolina Society of Pathologists.
